EXPERIENCE SMU

SMU is celebrating the centennial of its founding in 1911 and its opening in 1915. As SMU enters a second century of achievement, it is recognized as a university of increasing national prominence.

SMU prepares students for leadership in their professions and in their communities. The University's location near the heart of Dallas – a thriving center of commerce and culture – offers students enriching experiences on campus and beyond. Relationships in the Dallas area provide a platform for launching careers throughout the world.

The University offers a strong foundation in the humanities and sciences and undergraduate, graduate and professional degree programs through seven schools. The learning environment includes opportunities for research, community service, internships, mentoring and study abroad.

SMU was founded by what is now The United Methodist Church, in partnership with civic leaders, and was shaped by the entrepreneurial spirit of the region. The University is nonsectarian in its teaching and committed to academic freedom and open inquiry.

Football Bowls SMU played in four consecutive postseason bowls from 2009-12. The Mustangs defeated Fresno State 43-10 in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl on December 24, 2012.

Facilities Following extensive renovation and expansion, Moody Coliseum provides outstanding facilities for men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams, as well as other uses. A new tennis complex with indoor and outdoor courts is scheduled for completion in 2014.

SMU-IN-PLANO

smu.edu/plano

Overview SMU extended its reach northward to Plano in 1997 in facilities donated by Electronic Data Systems (EDS, now HP) in Legacy Business Park. SMU-in-Plano serves the residents of Collin County and North Texas in one of the state's fastest growing areas.

Campus The SMU-in-Plano campus consists of 16 acres and four buildings with nearly 200,000 square feet of flexible classroom space. Nine adjacent acres allow for future expansion of facilities.

Academic Programs SMU-in-Plano serves more than 800 adult students each year through a variety of evening and weekend programs leading to master's degrees and/or graduate certificate programs. The Hart eCenter is home to The Guildhall, one of the world's premier graduate education programs in video game development. An additional 500 adults enroll each year in noncredit continuing education and professional development programs. More than 300 SMU undergraduates attend J Term, a mini-term in January before the start of the spring semester.

Community Outreach SMU-in-Plano provides important outreach services through the Center for Dispute Resolution and Conflict Management, Center for Family Counseling and Diagnostic Center for Dyslexia and Related Disorders. Summer programs offer learning opportunities for some 1,500 students in grades K-12. Local organizations rent classroom space on the campus for employee training programs and meetings.

SMU-IN-TAOS

smu.edu/taos

Overview SMU-in-Taos provides opportunities for adventurous study and research in a unique setting in Northern New Mexico. The property includes pre-Civil War Fort Burgwin and remains of a 13th-century Native American pueblo. SMU began acquiring the property in 1964 and reconstructed the fort to serve as an archaeology research center. The University added facilities to accommodate students and began offering summer classes in 1973.

Campus SMU's Taos campus has grown to include 423 acres with 28 buildings, located within the Carson National Forest and surrounded by the Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

Academic Programs SMU-in-Taos offers summer credit courses in the natural and social sciences, humanities, arts and business and an annual archaeology field school. Emphasizing experiential learning, classes are enhanced by the region's distinctive mix of cultures and rich natural resources.

Outreach SMU-in-Taos offers enriching programs for alumni, friends and members of the Taos community. The annual Taos Cultural Institute provides a summer weekend of informal classes for adults taught by SMU faculty members. Other special events include lectures, concerts and art exhibitions. Facilities are available for conferences, retreats and youth groups.
